28 TEACHERS TO BE ADDED HERE

Huge Scholastic Increase is Reported

BUDGET INCREASE

Building Expansion to Serve Need Only Short Time

Twenty-eight additional school teachers for Port Arthur next year will be elected by the school board in order to take care of the increasing number of children in the city schools. Word to this effect was issued today by L. B. Abbey, secretary of the school board, and election of teachers is scheduled to come up in the school board meeting of May 8, it is said.

1,131 Increase in Pupils

An increase of 1,131 pupils in the schools during the 1922 session over the 1921 session is reported by Abbey. Computing 40 students to a class, it is estimated that 28 additional teachers will be needed for the 1923-24 term.

"In order to meet the added expenses to take care of the last bond issue, the necessary increase of faculty, increased operation costs in the new school buildings, insurance, and other items, the schools' budget must be increased," Abbey pointed out. "Property valuations must be held to the maximum, or an increased tax rate voted by the tax payers to meet these added liabilities and insure the uninterrupted operation of the schools," he said.

New Schools Needed

The need for addition buildings on new locations looms in the near future, and it is apparent that the additions now under construction at the high school and the Queen school will merely serve to relieve the situation temporarily for a short time, he said. "Eliminating the schools is becoming more and more a difficult problem on account of the low tax rate, 50 cents, having to care for all obligations, such as including free kindergarten, auditorium, physical education and other special features," Abbey said.

A survey of 15 larger Texas cities for the year 1921 showed that Port Arthur then ranked twelfth in population, ninth in scholastic population, twelfth in salaries, first in number of scholars per 100 population; sixth in number of children enrolled; fourth in school tax for bonds; thirteenth in school tax for maintenance; eleventh in total school tax for bonds and maintenance and fifth in per capita costs, the secretary reported.

OWSLEY WANTS ALIEN EXCLUSION

Tells Legioners Foreigners Lead Radicals

DALLAS, Texas, April 30.—Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, told local legionnaires and business men here today that he favored total exclusion of immigrants from the United States. "Owsley charged that 'every time American business or American institutions are attacked the attack comes from a man or woman who has never been naturalized.'"

"I favor a legislative program making the English language the only medium of instruction in schools, public and private, and a requirement that the flag be unfurled over every American school house," Owsley continued.

Owsley announced his approval of the French invasion of the Ruhr.

"I am a boxing fan," the mayor said in explaining his stand. "I think the sport is all right and believe that state law should be made to permit and supervise boxing. But under the present statutes, it is against the law."

U.S. DESTROYERS FOREIGN BOOZE SHIPS BARRED

4 Navy Vessels at Texas Company Docks

Steaming swiftly up the ship canal about noon today, four United States destroyers, the Warden, Billingsley, Dale and Reid, docked at the Texas Company for a few hours early this afternoon to take on bunker oil before proceeding to their bases on the Atlantic coast.

The brief call of the destroyers here today was the first time fighting ships of the navy have visited Port Arthur since 1915, when a flotilla of six or eight destroyers were stationed in Port Arthur for several months, during the trouble on the Mexican border.

Word that the destroyers were coming to Port Arthur today was received Sunday by Texas Company marine department officials, and arrangements made for speedily supplying the vessels with bunker oil. Late this afternoon they are scheduled to sail for their bases on the Atlantic coast.

Can Not Legally Enter U. S. Ports, Ruling

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The United States supreme court today decided that neither American or foreign ships can legally bring liquor inside the three mile limit of American territorial waters, but outside that limit, both American and foreign ships are no longer subject to American prohibition laws.

The court's decision knocked out in part the ruling of Attorney General Daugherty, which held that the government had power to prohibit American ships anywhere on the seas from carrying liquor, and that it also could prohibit foreign ships bringing it within the three-mile limit.

"As to American ships the Daugherty ruling was reversed as to foreign ships, it was upheld.

The decision was by a vote of seven to two, Justice McReynolds and Sutherland dissenting.

The majority opinion was read by Assistant Justice Vandevanter.

In a dissenting opinion, Justice Sutherland expressed the belief that barring liquor on foreign ships within our territory was an unjust and unreasonable interference and one apt to lead to international misunderstanding.

Kansas Governor Asks Harding For National Sugar Price Boycott

Wistner Denies He Told Low City Didn't Have 'Leg to Stand On'

Denial of the charge that he told F. Y. Low that the city commission "had ordered him to 'start something,' or that the city did not have a leg to stand on legally in its suit against the gas company, or that he said the action of the city against the gas company was all 'politics,'" was made by Vernon J. Wistner, city attorney, late this afternoon.

"Out of my efforts to be fair to Low, he turns around and tries to make political propaganda out of the whole business. He can just go ahead. Of course I didn't say any of the things he charges me with," Wistner said.

"Low don't know what he's talking about. The court—not the gas company, or the city, either, but the court—set the time for the injunction hearing," Wistner said.

company, today, in answer to the city's injunction suit against the company.

"The day when tin horn politicians can harass this company without cost to themselves is past," Low declared in a written statement.

Claims Misrepresentation

Low said the city commission was too cowardly to give the company notice, although one hour would have sufficed, and the notice they filed is full of willful lies and misrepresentations which the company could not have controverted had an opportunity been afforded them.

"The petition for an injunction was filed Saturday by the city, which resulted in Judge George C. O'Brien, in the 5th district court, issuing a temporary restraining order against the gas company collecting a $270 rate, and setting May 18 as the date for final hearing on the injunction petition."

"Apparently the city attorney deceived Judge O'Brien in not stating there was a parallel action pending in the federal court," Low said in the statement.

"Petty Politics," Claims.

"This whole business is just a continuation of the contemptible game of petty politics which has characterized the dealings of Mayor Logan and his henchmen from the day he took office," Low's statement continues.

"Wistner was in my office for protracted periods last Saturday, and stated he had been ordered by the commission to 'start something,' but that he had told them the city did not have a leg to stand on legally and would certainly be overruled in any court. He said frankly it was all 'politics' and that Logan felt he had to do 'something' on the gas question to save his face before the election," Low stated.

"This man and his henchmen therefore continue to use the public funds in an effort to further their petty political schemes. They have already spent a large sum in this way and with the knowledge that such expenditures could have no effect other than to rock their own political hobby horses," Low said.

Permits for residences ranging from $1,000 up to $3,500 and $5,000 pre-dominate in the April lists, it is pointed out.

GARDEN CONTEST FRANKLIN PLAN

Object to Create Incentive to Beautify by Flowers

Under the supervision of the "nature study department," the fourth grade pupils of Franklin school will compete in a spring gardening contest to be inaugurated in the near future, it was made known today.

The object of the contest, it is understood, will be to create incentive for the students of the school to beautify their homes through planting flowers.

The student who effects the greatest transformation in his yard through the planting of blossoms will be awarded a cash prize of $5. Camera snapshots of the homes will be made before and after gardening projects have been worked out.

A "penny packer sale" came during the past week at Franklin school enabled the children to purchase seed for the flower gardening contest at almost cost.

Nature study instructors at Franklin school have taught their youngsters to make the most of seed; what goes to make up good soil, the proper time to plant certain kinds of seed, the care of flowers—all these things have been stressed so that the youthful gardeners can go ahead confidently with every bit of the hoeing, planting, and nurture of their blossoms. Moreover, the rudiments of landscape gardening were taught in order that the students might apply artistic principles to their flower beds.

Considerable enthusiasm has been manifested over the contest, and close competition is expected to result. The judges chosen for the event include:

Leonard Power, principal of the school; Miss Doris Hillard and Josephine Lurie, nature study instructors.

LOW CLAIMS 'WILLFUL LIES'

Low company shall charge and receive for all gas sold such sum or sums as will yield a net return of 10 per cent on the fair value of the plant and of the gas sold. Low said it is clearly shown the city commission had no legal right to fix any rate below those established for the 18 months period, namely a $2.70 rate.

"In spite of this knowledge, and in spite of advice to the city commission by the city attorney, repeatedly given, that any ordinance they passed imposing any rate lower than a net rate of $2.70 would be illegal, they passed such illegal ordinance," he continues.

"In this, they have violated the honor of the city of Port Arthur. They have violated the contract between the gas company and the city. This has been done at great cost to the company and for no purpose but the political fortunes of a few unscrupulous and incompetent incumbents in office," Low said.

"Voluntary" reductions.

"This company has made voluntary rate reductions very much below rates they can maintain by law, and has done all things possible to work out conditions which will make still lower rates possible," is set forth in Low's statement.

Until Low makes some of the order issued by Judge O'Brien Saturday rescinding the company from collecting the $2.70 rate, and changing the $2.25 rate ordered in the city's ordinance, it has not been determined whether the company's bill to be mailed Tuesday will be based on the $2.25 rate, or the $2.70 rate, he said.

Claims Writ Not Served

"No writ has been served on me since the hearing Saturday, and I have not been able to get in touch with Judge O'Brien today, because of his departure from Beaumont to Dallas, where a number of his family is sick," Low said. "It is very unusual for any court to issue a restraining order without notice to the other side," he said.

Cornorvon is Buried

In Beacon Hill Tomb

LONDON, April 30.—On the barren windswept summit of Beacon Hill, the body of Lord Cornorvon, discoverer of the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen, was buried today.

In impressive solemnity, 90 feet above the plain, a private funeral party placed the coffin in the ground. Services were held at Higher Castle, the Earl's home. The body was taken on an automobile half a mile to the base of the hill where a tractor was attached to pull it to the summit.

Kinks of the Links

A player is on the putting green about 50 feet from the hole. A light shower has fallen and the grass is a little wet. When the player turns to putt, the first addresser the ball and after a wait of a few seconds, looks to the rear of the cup and looks over the line of the green. Then, as he reaches the cup, either accidentally or intentionally, he drops the face of his putter along the ground to where his ball is so that he makes a direct line in the wet grass from the ball to the cup. Has the player overstepped his rights in so doing?

The rules specifically state that the line of putt must not be touched, except by placing the club immediately in front of the ball in the act of addressing it. This is a common habit of a great many players prior to making their putt and is permissible. The player certainly overstepped his rights in making the line of putt and he is penalized by the loss of the hole.

A player's ball while not in casual water, is lying so near to it that it seriously interferes with the player's stance. Must the ball itself be in casual water to be lifted and dropped without penalty, or does the rule apply in the same manner if the casual water interferes with the player's stance?

If the water interferes with the stance of the player the ball may be lifted and dropped without penalty.

HERE'S A JOB FOR A GOOD HERMIT

THE SACRAMENTO HERMIT'S CABIN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 30.—Add to the list of municipal calamities a departed hermit and an empty hermitage.

For this is the problem that has the city dazed of Sacramento sitting up nights talking was and means.

And it gives an opportunity to some volunteer hermit to ward off the blow of a curtailed tourist trade, a true calamity.

It all came about because the "Hermit of Echo Lake" had to die right when his reputation and drawing power were at their height. Also his stories, which grew and grew until they had reached stupendous proportions.

He Just Came

He hermit was not a municipal project, in the first place. He just came, only he knew from where, and settled himself 90 miles northeast of here in a home-made cabin on the old "gold trail" or looking Echo Lake, in the Sierra Nevada range.

Rumor said he sought solace in the mountains for a disappointment in love. But he that as it might, he soon became an object for auto tourists.

They traveled miles to hear his stories and home-made philosophy and to see his cabin built from fallen branches and papered with labels from cans.

But now he is dead, no one has taken his place, and the call has gone out for a successor.

Among the inducements offered applicants are:

An echo—which, of course, is a necessity to any true and authentic hermit.

A one-room house, with unobstructed light and air, and a magnificent view.

Furniture consisting of one bed, one table and a box pantry.

Excellent fishing.

An already established reputation, which leaves practically nothing for the applicant to furnish except a blasted life.

Many young doctors graduate soon. They should settle down near railway crossings.

THIRD DEGREE IS GIVEN SUSPECT

Drug-Addict Compelled To Sit Beside Childs Body

NEW YORK, April 30.—Forcing a drug addict, suspected of the murder of eight-year-old Josephine Bruno, to sit through silent hours beside the mutilated corpse of the little child, police today attempted to elicit a confession from him.

They hoped that he would be so affected by the silence and the sight of her outraged body that he would confess.

His only reaction to the strange test was a calm and disinterested composure and his nerves when he was taken out as when he went in.

The addict was among 15 men of the Italian colony of Brooklyn, scene of the murder, who were questioned fully by authorities.

The girl's body was found yesterday.

PARIS, Texas, April 30.—Luther England, 17, was seriously wounded when officers fired on an automobile containing five young men whom they suspected of having liquor in their possession.

England was not implicated in the charges, having joined the party as they passed through here, it was said.

40,000 Minnesotans

Urged to Officiate in

General Buyer's Strike

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 30.—

Forty thousand Minnesotans were urged to join a buyer's strike today.

J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota farm bureau federation, advised them to "buy absolutely nothing that seems necessary does not imperatively demand."

By refraining from buying, farmers have a "sure, swift and certain" remedy for "the vicious circle of rising prices of farmers' necessities, rising prices and rising wages of those who produce them," said Reed.

28 HOUR OCEAN TO OCEAN MAIL

P. O. Department to Start Service Soon

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Twenty-eight hour mail service between New York and San Francisco is the aim of the post office department in a new air service which will be started this summer.

The department intends to set a new record for transcontinental mail transportation and not only to set the record once, but to maintain it continuously. Crack pilots in the speediest of planes will be put on the new route, which Postmaster General New said today "would mark a milestone in the history."

The schedule being worked out calls for an "unprecedented" amount of night flying. This will be necessary to make the 28-hour record which the department is aiming at.

The mail will leave New York about noon. The first pilot will carry it to Chicago, reaching there before dark. Flying all night another pilot will take it to Cheyenne, Wyo., reaching there about dawn.

On the third and last relay the mail will be freighted high above the summits of the Sierras, and will be dropped in San Francisco before the end of the second day.

Powerful beacon lights and a thorough system of guide posts will mark a plain pathway for the flyers which will try to annihilate time and distance in the postal service's new experiment.

LITTLE TROUBLE MAY DAY BELIEF

Ruhr May Cause Flare; Other Places Quiet

LONDON, April 30.—Approximately 25,000,000 workers will observe May Day tomorrow throughout Europe. Probability of serious trouble are less, with the exception of the Ruhr, than at any time in a decade.

Although there are more than a million unemployed in this country, outside of the customary red flags and demonstrations at Hyde Park there is little likelihood of anything happening. In other European countries for various reasons this May Day is expected to be quiet.

France.—Discussions and disorganization in the communist ranks is expected to result in comparative failure of any attempt at serious demonstration. Supporters of the extreme left will hold mass meetings to protest against occupation of the Ruhr.

Germany.—Demonstrations in the Ruhr are expected to signify the workers' successful resistance to the French and with troops on the alert throughout the newly occupied zone, the possibility of clashes between French and Germans is always present.

In Berlin, public traffic services advantage of professions of fears of a workers' uprising to arm themselves and stir trouble of their own.

In Berlin, public traffic services will be suspended.

Italy.—Premier Mussolini has in a large measure spiced his day by declaring it off. Mussolini has decreed that May Day should be celebrated April 24 as "Rome Day," and that their opponents of the Left do not get a chance to celebrate tomorrow.

The Fascist hold is still strong enough for them to enforce this ruling.

Sweden.—Former Premier Banting, whose ministry was overthrown on its last day, will lead a parade of the later. Demonstrations throughout Scandinavia are expected to be peaceful.

Turkey.—Discovery of "Bolshevik plots" on the eve of May Day, which Turkish workers will celebrate, is reported in dispatches from Ankara and Constantinople.

3 INTER-OCEAN FLYERS FINISH

Land at Washington From San Diego

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Three of the four marine flyers who left San Diego April 19 completed their transcontinental flight at Bolling Field here today.

The fourth plane was forced down at Harpers Ferry, West Virginia, in sight of its goal.

Navy officials first announced the arrival of the entire group of four but later messages from Bolling Field disclosed the failure of the fourth to arrive.

The planes were greeted on arrival by Secretary of the Navy Denny, Admiral Moffet and General John L. Anne, commandant of the marine corps.

30 TEXAS ASSESSORS HEAR DELINQUENT BILL
AUSTIN, April 30.—Approximately thirty assessors met here this morning to confer with Representative Bonham with reference to his delinquent tax bill. They advised that under the provisions of the bill they will receive a cut in their fees of 50 percent and want an amendment which will correct this procedure.

Under the plans submitted, Representative Bonham stated he would be willing to submit an amendment that would not decrease the fees.

Take Hubby's Early Morning Grouch Away by Giving Him Some Good Coffee—But be Sure it is good Coffee Says Expert

MRS. ALICE FOOT MAC DOUGALL TESTING VARIOUS BLENDS OF COFFEE.

NEW YORK, April 30.—"Start your husband right in the morning and you need not worry about him the rest of the day," is the advice to wives given by Mrs. Alice Foot Mac Dougall of New York.

"And the best way to overcome early morning masculine moods is with a cup, maybe two, of coffee," she continues.

"But it must be good coffee," she hastens to warn.

"Men's gloomy hour strikes when he has to get up in the morning and a cup of thin, brown, bad-tasting coffee will only confirm his belief that the world in general, particularly his home, is a pretty poor place."

Mrs. MacDougall speaks with authority, for she really knows what good coffee is. She has devoted the last 16 years of her life to producing it.

Today she is the head of a tea, coffee and cocoa concern that does over $100,000 worth of business a year.

She is the only woman coffee expert in America, and her working day is passed before a revolving table in her laboratory where she blends and tests coffee.

"Good coffee is easy to make," she says. "In the first place it must be freshly ground in a clean mill. Ground coffee that stands too long loses its strength and flavor, and if coffee dust is allowed to accumulate in the mill the oil in it gets rancid."

"Coffee should be ground to the fineness of granulated sugar. The essential oil which gives the beverage its characteristic taste and soothing quality is contained in cells distributed throughout the coffee bean."

"Fine grinding releases all the oil while coarse grinding permits some of the cells to remain unbroken and the oil is wasted."

Here are Mrs. MacDougall's two best recipes for coffee:

Without a Percolator
Using a coffee pot to serve six persons, mix half a cup of finely ground coffee to a thick paste with a little cold water. Drop this into a quart of fresh water just brought to a boil, and set it back on the stove where it will keep hot but will not continue to boil. Settle with half a cup of cold water down the spout of the coffee pot and serve through a strainer.

With a Percolator
Fill the receptacle with enough cold water to cover the spout on the inside. Fill the cup with finely ground coffee, using a teaspoonful to a cup. Percolate for at least 15 minutes. The longer the percolating continues, the stronger the coffee. For after dinner coffee, decrease the quantity of water.

Ship Officer, Frozen to Bridge Meets Death With a Smile

Tale of Heroism Revealed After Mysterious Loss of Seacomett in 70-Mile Gale

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., April 30.—A tale of heroism of sea and of a quartermaster who went smiling down with his ship, frozen to the bridge, was told today when survivors of the ill-fated Seacomett, which sank almost without trace in a 70-mile hurricane Sunday, were brought here in a lightship tender.

Sprung Leak
The Seacomett, a collier out of Norfolk, Boston bound, was plying north just before dawn in a sea-lashed to fury by a gale. The collier was unable to stand the wreckage, and sprang a leak.

Working in relays, the vessel's crew lost slowly but steadily in their efforts to keep the Seacomett afloat.

Heavy with the coal in her bunkers and hold, the collier settled into the raging trough of the sea and the crew was ordered to the boats, of which there were but three. One of these was washed away by a comb and a second skidded down a smoke stack jutting into the boiling sea when the Seacomett listed heavily to starboard. Waves began breaking with irresistible force over the deck, carrying one of the crew after another overboard until at one time 13 struggled in the water. Some were picked up and hauled back on board, buffeted terribly.

One lifeboat was lowered safely, and another righted.

On the bridge, as the Seacomett settled, stood Captain Dan Miller and John Santiago, the quartermaster.

Takes Death Plunge
The Seacomett by this time was heaving convulsively, like a human being in death torment. The shriek of the wind in the rigging and the growl of the vessel's seams drowned any means of communication save by signs.

In less than 30 minutes after the first leak was sprung, the Seacomett took its death plunge. Captain Miller, motioning to Santiago to leap, and was rescued.

"The last I saw of John, he was standing there on the bridge, deathly pale, gripping the wheel," Captain Miller said. "He appeared to be frozen in his tracks. He went to his death with blue lips set in a fixed smile, carried down into the swirls along with the Seacomett."

Six others were missing but a lifeboat containing the captain and 22 survivors, one a woman, reached a lightship, and later were brought ashore. They heard then for the first time that the collier Abasco had reported having picked up part of the Seacomett's crew.

Sailed Friday 12th
Mrs. J. G. Hingins, wife of the third officer, and the only woman aboard, collapsed when she stepped ashore. She had been calm throughout the ordeal, and the suffering in the joy waters that filled the lifeboat during its weary trip to the lightship, but the strain overcame her at the end, when it was all over.

Members of the crew, hot coffee inside them after 24 hours of fast and privation, grumbled that the vessel had cleared from Norfolk on Friday the 15th of April.

THREE MORE TOWNS SEEK TECH COLLEGE
AUSTIN, April 30.—Three additional towns of west Texas today filed briefs with Secretary of the State Commission of the Texas Technological College. These were Lubbock, Memphis and Floydada. This brings the total to 32 towns west of the 98 meridian which have filed briefs.

BESTED BY BULL, TRIES TO SUICIDE

Mexicali Torador Badly Gored

MEXICALI, Lower California, April 30.—"Gnashed at his sorry showing in the Mexican bull ring, Puella Rivera, torador of Mexico City and Barcelona, tried to commit suicide before the Sunday crowds."

He had been badly gored by a wild bull and, according to matador custom, attempted to kill himself following the animal's victory. Arena attendants prevented him from accomplishing his purpose.

NEGRO HOT CHECK ARTIST ESCAPES JAIL
ORANGE, Texas, April 30.—As Orange officers were preparing to leave for Bradley, Ark., in response to a telegram relating to the capture of Roy Williams, negro, wanted in Orange for passing bad checks, and breaking out of the county jail, another telegram came from Arkansas stating the negro had broken out of jail there and was gone.

EMPLOYEES OF BAKING MAGNATE GO ON STRIKE
NEW YORK, April 30.—Five thousand employees of the Ward Baking company were to go on strike today in protest against the recent open shop and r of George S. Ward, president.

Plants in New York, Brooklyn, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Boston, Baltimore, Syracuse, Columbus, Youngstown and South Bend are affected.

Artist Dies Suddenly
LONDON, April 30.—Mark Fisher, Boston artist, died here today of heart disease. He had been awarded medals for his exhibits in St. Louis, Chicago and Paris.

Legion Get-together On Wednesday Plan

speeches and entertainment will be held by the Rudolph Lambert post, American Legion, in the post club rooms on Lake Shore Drive Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Wright Chevrolet, adjutant, said today.

Germany to Offer French 30 Million Gold Marks, Report

BERLIN, April 30.—The German cabinet has decided to offer France thirty billion gold marks instead of twenty, it was learned here today. A further increase may be agreed upon if the experts decide that Germany is capable of paying.

The German offer, which probably will be embodied in the note to be sent to Farnes Tuesday night, also would safeguard France against German military attacks. It demands immediate evacuation of the Ruhr at the moment of signature.

A copy of the note is expected to be delivered to Washington at the same time.

A MAN AND HIS MONEY

YOU AND I

Henry Ford's theories are not new. They are old as the hills. But they are new in the sense that they are being applied to the modern world. Ford's theories are based on the fact that money is the root of all evil. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's troubles. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's wars. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's poverty. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's suffering. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's misery. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's pain. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's death. He believes that money is the cause of all the world's hell.

Money is said to be the root of all evil. That depends upon its use or abuse. There is no taint of money if that money is applied to a useful or elevating purpose. Man came before money. Since the coming of money throughout the ages innumerable individuals sought to place money before man. Some succeeded while others were unsuccessful.

This is an editorial news story of a man and his money. He was born an alien, under German skies. He acquired thrift in a home of poverty. He came to America when not more than twenty. He found a land of opportunity. He saved his dollars, he invested in land. He never married. He never could get away from thrift habit. The more he accumulated the less his desire for display of wealth. He lived as frugal and as lowly in his own quaint way when he was rich as when he was an immigrant boy in the long ago.

He saw a city grow around and about him. He saw the people come in and acquire homes. He saw stately buildings reared where it was a wilderness when he came. He saw church spires touch the skies. He saw skyscrapers erected for the uses of commerce and civilization.

The larger his income the more he invested in land. He kept his own council, he never made many friends, he never made a vulgar display of coin. He did not flaunt himself with the new-fangled, Old age crept upon him. A serious organic trouble warned him that he was nearing the end.

He visited many hospitals, and fumed ones at that, the country over. He always registered under an assumed name. He did not want the men of science and surgery to know of his wealth. All he cared for was that they should pronounce judgment on his physical condition and tell him the best or the worst for which he was willing to pay as a man of moderate means.

He saw hundreds of unfortunates, stricken with disease, who did not have the money to pay for either skill or science and these were turned away. When the icy touch of death sounded the last warning, the emigrant boy of the long ago, made his last will and testimony.

He bequeathed his all to the city of his adoption, first for a vast park for the use of all the people, and then the residue for the establishment of a vast public hospital where the stricken and the poor of all nationalities and creeds and conditions should be admitted and cared for until they had been cured or the grave had claimed its own.

This will was sustained by the courts and trustees were named. There will be a park that will be the glory of this Texas city and its people and there will be a public hospital that will be second to none in America, with millions ever in its treasury to carry out the dying wishes of this alien who fled in the long ago from a land where a man ruled by divine right and was the autocrat of a great people.

In his will he bequeathed wiser than he knew. Beneath the surface of the land dedicated for our hospital, the golden sands were found and millions of dollars have already been placed to the credit of the hospital fund and should the producing wells continue to flow and additional wells draw in, geologists and experts say that in a few years, the trustees of this great public hospital will not know how to spend the wealth of money at their command.

This alien had a memory. He had known the pangs of poverty. Pain had agitated him in his closing years. Wealth had come to him but it was of no avail. He had been stricken or touched in a vital part. He saw about him those who suffered, those who knew poverty, those who were homeless, those who were friendless, and then this man who was thrifty but not miserly and frugal but not niggardly, determined that the wealth he had accumulated should be devoted to that which should give or accomplish the greatest good to the greatest number for those who needed succor because of their poverty or their ills.

George Hermann was the alien who came to these shores in early years and who lived a long life in the city of his adoption. Houston is the queenly city where this man lived and died and where the Hermann park and Hermann hospital in the years to come, will be pointed to the visitor as monuments magnificent as well as enduring to the alien who gave his all to the city where he had accumulated his wealth.

This is more than an editorial news story. It is a human interest story and gives the lie to the saying, that money is the root of all evil. If there is a doubting Thomas let him read the story of George Hermann and the princely benefactions to the community and the people that he loved and where he found peace and prosperity under the skies of Texas.

Mighty man of millions when life's fitful fever is almost over, go thou and do likewise. There was an alien boy who came to these shores and when the angel of death invaded his chamber, he knew how to make his money useful for those who needed it most.

B. C. Forbes advises the people to put on the brakes. B. C. Forbes is general advisor to the universe and he gets money for it. He advises to sell and he knows where to sell it. This shows that he is a wise man.

SCOTT FERRIS

Scott Ferris is referred to by the New York Times as one of the outstanding figures in the development of the Montana, Wyoming oil resources, this in announcing the formation of the Western States Oil and Gas company, organized under the laws of the state of Delaware. Charles N. Haskell is chairman of the board of the new organization.

This company owns 150,000 acres of oilbearing lands in the northwest and plans to build 330 miles of railroad from Miles City, Montana, to Casper, Wyoming, and twenty-three new towns are to be constructed along this 330 miles of track.

Charles N. Haskell was the first governor of Oklahoma after statehood came. He was one of the pioneer telephone builders in Texas and the old Indian territory. He abandoned politics for the oil game and he gathered in millions. Scott Ferris is a product of the southwest. He was a member of congress from Oklahoma for ten years and defeated Thomas P. Gore for a senatorial nomination in 1920.

What happened is ancient history. There came a Republican landslide in November in 1920 and Oklahoma handed in the Republican column of state. Scott Ferris went down in defeat. J. W. Harold, Republican, won the senatorship. Ferris deserted politics. He became associated with Haskell.

They brought in wells in Oklahoma and the mid-continent territory of Texas. They invaded the Mexico fields. They jumped into Wyoming and Montana and now the erstwhile leaders of the Oklahoma Democracy are devoting all their time to the pursuit of the yellow sands. Haskell has never surrendered his Oklahoma citizenship. Scott Ferris hopes to go to the senate some day.

Chauncey M. Depew has passed his eighty-ninth mile post and says that he does not need monkey glands or anything. His last is making speeches. He has twelve volumes of his public speeches and hopes to make it twenty-four before he dies. If a man has a few millions to his credit, it is impossible for him to talk himself to death.

LETTER FROM LESLIE FERRIS TO HER MOTHER, MRS. JOSEPH HAMILTON

At last I have found an apartment. Mother dear, after days of looking about when I came home so tired each night that I could not talk, (Isn't it funny that your husband wants to read the paper when you are so tired you can not move and you just want to lie down on the sofa and think that is the time he selects to go to a picture show or some where to a dance?)

I just happened on the duckiest little place. A wonderful long studio room that we can use for a living room and a dining room. One large bedroom and a smaller room which I shall fit up for a guest room.

A fine modern bathroom and a most up-to-date little kitchen. And think of it, Mother, five closets. I don't know what Jack will say when he finds out that the flat is fifteen hundred dollars a year and I had to take it for three years to get it at that price. That includes heat and there will, of course, be no grass to cut or water tax.

The agent drew my attention to the fact that the owners even washed the windows on the outside and he said that while of course Jack is only getting five thousand now, he surely will have a raise very soon. He assured me Jack was called one of the comers in Albany business life.

The man also told me confidentially that rents were going up and it would be a big rent bargain to take this at the price. He intimated that he would not have made as advantageous a lease with any one else. I paid the first hundred and fifty dollars rent in advance out of the four thousand.

That lovely Chinese rug Aunt Jean gave me is large enough for the studio room with the addition of a couple of small ones. I got them at great bargains. The two only cost me three hundred dollars. When you see them you will think I am a regular buyer.

Of course I haven't had to buy any silver at all, but dishes—I am glad I am going to do my own work for if anyone could break any of my new "Crown Derby" I wouldn't be able to eat lunches for a month; they are so expensive. Mother, I think they are prettier even than your Dresden set.

The stove was in the apartment but I spent a thousand dollars before I turned around. And then, Mother, an awful thing happened. I told you all the nice things first but now I have got to confess what a little fool I am.

I have also a little home to pick with you, Mother dear. Why didn't you teach me how to buy things? I guess I was like Jack. I thought four thousand dollars would buy everything in the world and—well, I might as well begin at the beginning. (Don't tell Dad, will you.) Here comes Jack. Must wait until tomorrow.

LISTEN 'BATCHES'

TO THE GOOD PEOPLE OF PORT ARTHUR—

In my own behalf, and to those who have heard me criticized, I desire to place myself before you, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, as a candidate for Chief of Police.

I can truthfully say I have not asked the bootleggers, gamblers and prostitutes for their support; I do not want it, and rather than receive it, I would prefer defeat. Therefore, when I am elected, they need not expect any favors from me.

I stand for the enforcement of the law. I'm not boasting any promises, but God being my helper I will endeavor to relieve the situation of this community and make it miserable for those who rely upon the violation of our laws for their means of support. I am under no obligations to any of the lawless element of Port Arthur and it is my pleasure to state I never intend to be.

I expect to go the limit to suppress the vice and evil conditions that confront our citizenship.

I have no political leaders or bosses to elect me. I am qualified to fill the office of Chief of Police, and feel fully competent to fulfill its requirements.

I have been criticized by some for seeking the vote of the good women of this city; my reply to that is I'D RATHER HAVE THE VOTE OF ONE GOOD CHRISTIAN WOMAN THAN THAT OF A THOUSAND VOTERS WHO BREAK THE LAW AND SEEK OUT AN EXISTENCE ON UNDERHANDED METHODS, FOR IT IS THE GOOD WOMEN OF OUR CITY WHO STAND FOR THE RIGHT AND A CLEANER COMMUNITY.

I here and now pledge my word and honor to the good men and women of Port Arthur, who have the welfare of this city at heart, that I will stand by none but you.

I had rather be defeated by the good men and women of this community than elected by those whose livelihood is gathered from an illegitimate practice.

I want the voters here to know that I am in sympathy with our prohibition laws and always have been. If you see fit to give me your support and influence, it will be greatly appreciated, and I can assure you you will never have a regret in doing so.

"FISH" SHAPE IS NATION'S PERIL

Cannot Defend Country in Time of War

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS

NEA Service Staff Writer

PRAGUE, April 30.—If trouble again overtakes Europe as the result of an attempt on the part of Germany to "come back," or of Russia or of Turkey, or of anything else, Czechoslovakia may again disappear from the map.

Delicately poised in the very center of Europe, part of her having been carved out of Austria and part out of Hungary, with a crescent-shaped border of Germans on her western edge, any European quarrel would almost surely be the signal for a lot of curious neighbors to attempt a coup against Czechoslovakia.

Her frontier is almost impossible to defend. Have a look. Get out the kiddy's geography. It will pay you for—your knowledge—in this part of the world has a way of spreading westward as far as San Francisco and Hawaii and eastward as far as Japan.

"Czechoslovakia isn't a country," it's a fish. That's what President Hindenburg, of Austria, jokingly remarked to President Masaryk, his friend, of Czechoslovakia.

Shape of Country

He meant, of course, the absolutely unique shape of the country—594 miles long from east to west and in places not more than 45 miles wide.

Your map will show that Czechoslovakia's head—the Prague, or Bohemia end—is already in Germany's mouth. Poland on her back and Austria and Hungary on her throat and stomach.

Italy is a long narrow country. So is Japan. And Chile. But all these countries are half or all sea-coast—that is, protected by salt water. Czechoslovakia is an island entirely surrounded by land, and on three sides by none too friendly countries.

So that is why, if you ask anybody in this country what above all else they want, they will instantly reply: "Peace."

Peace is this four-year-old, war-born republic's domestic policy, its foreign policy and its prayer. It thinks it, eats it, sleeps it and, if need be, will fight for it.

141,000 Under Arms

They're an army of about 141,000 troops under the colors now. Service is compulsory; the term two years, beginning at 20 years of age. The French have a mission here instructing the troops and a French general head the general staff. The soldiers remind one of the Belgians, the way they are uniformed and equipped.

If there is any menace to Czechoslovakia, militarily speaking, in the immediate future, it would be from the direction of Hungary. The Magyars are splendid fighters and Hungary is in rather a desperate mood as a result of the way she came out of the war.

But there does not seem to be much danger even from that direction just now. Hungary's army is small—35,000 men—and then there is the Little Entente—Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia—virtually surrounding Hungary and each with a comparatively large army.

TOMORROW: Czechoslovakia has two George Washingtons.

BEIGE REIGNS IN FASHION WORLD TO WOMEN AFRAID OF FANCY COLOR COMBINATIONS

THIS spring and summer might well be called the reign of beige in the fashion world. For beige offers a "piece de resistance" to the woman who is afraid of the fanciful color combinations which are so overwhelmingly popular this season. Black, blues and browns have taken a back seat as far as the summer wardrobe is concerned and the woman who wants to be just a little bit different from the Egyptian garbed femininity of today, turns to beige.

For several years we have been flirting with the use of beige, employing it for minor details of dress rather than for complete garments, until today many of our fashionable accessories are made of this shade. Beige stockings and gloves have become a vogue.

Now comes the beige evening gown, defying the evil shadow with its gentility and softness. Many of these are created of georgette or chiffon, trimmed in Spanish or Bohemian lace panels or overskirts, the lace being dyed to match the material of the gown. Again we see them beaded in designs of floral colorings, in which case they are low-necked and sleeveless for strict evening purposes. Whether beaded or with straight fitting skirts the bodies are always long and semi-fitted. Contrast may be effected by using costume slips of harmonizing colors, such as burnt orange or Nile green.

The fluffly summer frock of organdy is equally smart in beige tones and can be worn more generally than the organdy of more brilliant colors. Hats of beige for summer wear are already shown on Fifth Avenue. Some of them are turbans made of tulle with finely pleated bows at one side, while others are large hair shapes trimmed in flowers.

ANOTHER summer hat which can be worn with the "dresier" frock is the black lace-trimmed leghorn. Combining wide black lace with tulle in quite new and can be extremely lovely. Usually the upper brim is covered with the lace allowing a narrow border to extend over the brim. A cluster of flowers among the newer sports hats are those wide brimmed affairs of neutral colors with hand painted flowers covering the crown and upper brim. If one is adept at painting or stenciling a very pretty hat can be made out of an inexpensive one.

BATIKED hats with crowns of one color fading into brims of several different colors can now be purchased at the untriumphed departments in the stores.

Tucks and tiny ruffles adorn the 16 button silk gloves for summer. Champagne and pearl gray will be more popular than white for the elbow length glove of silk.

ORGANDY collar and cuff sets will be worn again this season. Often the organdy edgings purchased by the yard are prettier than the ready made sets. Ecru is preferable to white, unless white is embroidered in oriental colorings, as deep white is seldom becoming about the face.

HANDKERCHIEFS to match the frock are the newest thing in accessories. Not only must the handkerchief be colored, but it must be the exact color of the gown. In New York many girls have their "totem" embroidered on their handkerchiefs and linens believing that this brings them luck. Some of them have elephants others turtles; others cats. They select the animal that they most admire and use him as a lucky emblem.

AMONG the many charming hostesses attending the visit of Mrs. H. Kaufman of Corsicana, who is the guest of Mrs. Ed Saffir, of 1129 Procter street for a few days, was Mrs. Saffir's bridge at her attractive home Saturday evening.

Mrs. Saffir in entertaining for her guest had with her six tables of play for the diversion of bridge. Luxuriously spring blossoms lent their delicate shades to provide the motif, arrangements of the pretty flowers clustered at vantage points about the rooms giving an attractive setting for the game.

The bridge tables were appointed with attractive accessories and mints of the favored hues. For success in the games Mrs. J. Weingarten received the ladies' prize for high score and Mr. Albert Plattman was awarded the gentlemen's favor. Consolation fell to Mr. Harry H. Silber. Fruit punch was served during the games, following which a dainty ice course was offered.

The personnel of the pleasing affair included Mr. and Mrs. Julius Deuster, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Leach, Mr. and Mrs. J. Weiner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Plattman, Mr. and Mrs. A. Levy, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. M. Blankfield, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Nathan of Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. M. Jacobs of Beaumont, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosen of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. Weingarten of Sherman, Miss Esther Kopernick, Miss Laura Kahn, Miss Johanna Saffir, and Messrs. J. Jacobs, Gus Jacobs, Raymond Cohen, Joe Rosenthal of Beaumont, Albert Levy of Beaumont, Arthur Kahn, and Harry H. Silber; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Saffir.

MRS. R. L. RUTAN WAS HOSTESS to the P. E. P. club at her home, 2411 Sixth street, at which time the club adopted the constitution which was drawn up by Mary Margaret Ward, Thelma Campbell, Mildred Saxon and Aline Winn.

Those present at this session were Misses Thelma Campbell, Nettie Mae Burke, Katherine Wall, Belle Ward, Dorothy Beersman, Mildred Washburne, Agnes Youngblood, Jeanne

DISGUISE YOUR AMERICANISM WITH A FOREIGN COSTUME

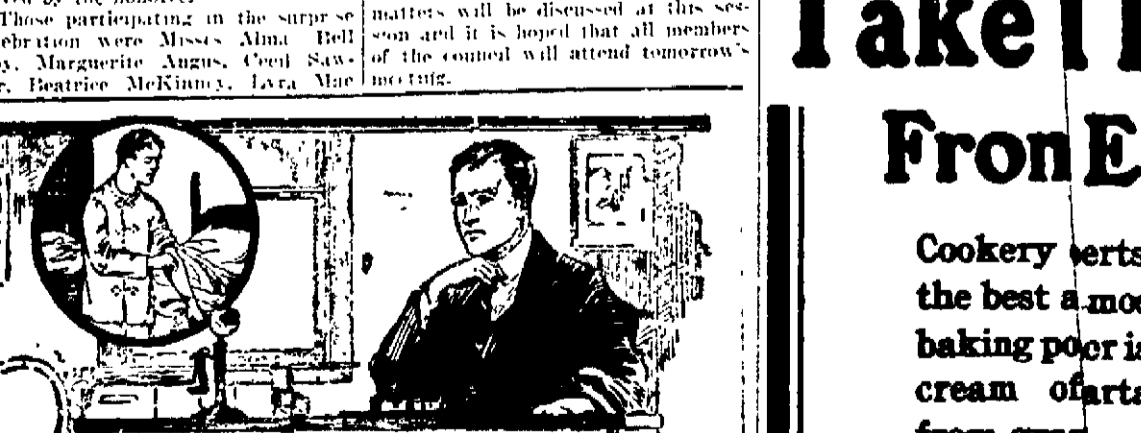

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, April 17.—If you are a 100 per cent American, you will have to express your patriotism some other way than in your dress this year.
No matter if your ancestors were in the Mayflower party, and if you pay dues in all the patriotic orders, you mustn't betray it in your costume.
Look like Pharaoh's sister, if you will, or a shant-eyed maid from China, like an Indian princess, a Persian dancer, the Sultan's favorite or a Spanish señorita, but don't look like a plain American.
It isn't being done this year. And besides you will have to make all your own frocks—you couldn't possibly buy one in the shops.

CURE FOR MOTHS
Sprinkle red pepper liberally wherever you suspect moths.

FRYING IN DEEP FAT
When frying doughnuts or French fried potatoes or any food that is fried in deep fat do not put in too many pieces at any one time or you will lower the temperature too much and the fat will be absorbed.

BOILED EGGS
You may be sure your boiled egg is a fresh one if it dries immediately on coming out of the water.

RESTRAINING HEADS
When your bands become unstrung, restraining them on a violin string or on dental floss. Either wears much longer than thread.

Early Mailing Urge AS Funds Sh

An unprecedented volume of letters is flowing through the Post office, and yet funds for the postal work through the rest of the fiscal year have so diminished that auxiliary help and pool time pay has been abandoned, resulting in extra effort to keep the service going at its usual speed and efficiency.

Asks Co-operation
This is the word issued today by S. I. Dunn, postmaster, with the request that the public co-operate with the postal officials in dispatching mail. Some of the things the public can look after more carefully, and thus insure good postal service are pointed up as follows by Postmaster Dunn:

First—Mail as early as possible in the day.
Second—See that your mail is fully and correctly addressed, including street and number or post office number.

Third—Advise your correspondents of your correct street address or post office box number, and request them to put this address on all mail for you.

Fourth—Always place stamps on the upper right hand corner of the envelope. This enables proper cancellation by machine and saves time required to hand-stamp mail with stamps in any other place on the letter. Properly stamped letters are properly stamped letters.

Fifth—Always place your return card, with proper street address or box number on outgoing mail. This will insure its return if undeliverable. If desired, and saves lots of time for the post office employees.

Sixth—If you mail any quantity at one time please face all letters the same way and tie them in separate bundles of "city and outgoing" mail.

Seventh—If your mail is delivered through the city delivery service be sure to provide a suitable receptacle and have it placed at the front of your house.

Don't Let That Cold Turn Into "Flu"

That cold may turn into "Flu," Grippe or, even worse, Pneumonia, unless you take care of it at once. Rub good old Musterole on the congested parts and see how quickly it brings relief.

Colds are merely congestion. Musterole, made from pure oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other simple ingredients, is a counter-irritant which stimulates circulation and helps break up the cold.

As effective as the messy old mustard plaster, it does the work without the blister. Just rub it on with your finger-tips. You will feel a warm tingle as it enters the pores, then a cooling sensation that brings welcome relief.

Better than a mustard plaster. 35c and 65c, in jars and tubes.
